

JEFFERY BROUSSARD – REVIEWS

“Top Zydeco Album of the Year”

- Blues & Soul Magazine 2007

“Titled 'Keeping The Tradition Alive', this is the best CD of traditional Zydeco I've heard in a long time. This may well be Jeffery's best work ever, and he's been responsible for some great recordings over the years.

There are a few new tunes by Jeffery, a couple that feature his newly acquired fiddle skills, and a handful of classic tunes from Boozoo and others. The band is tight, Jeffery's vocals are right up front, and of course his accordion skills are beyond reproach. This is strictly old-school... played with fire and is non-stop danceable.”

“IF U DO NOT HAVE THIS CD, IT IS A MUST HAVE-GREAT TWO STEPPING FROM TRACKS 1 THRU 17”

“Jeffery Broussard has long been respected as one of the greatest accordion players to ever grace our beautiful Creole culture and for that matter the world. I can remember, as I so often reminisce; the kick-off of Jeffery's professional career. He and a young band by the name of Zydeco Force were performing on the side of Richard's Club for one of our first trailrides. As the dust rose through the gravel and crowds began to jump and scream, my brothers and I realized that we were witnessing the beginning of something special. Through the years I was able to watch Jeffery and his band along with the likes of BooZoo and John (Delafose) pioneer the music that the younger generations have now embraced and made their own. It is very heartwarming when I talk with the “who's who” of Zydeco to hear the amount of respect that they have for this pioneer. However, that doesn't surprise me being that most of them have driven down Hwy 190 just to talk and learn much of what they know from the old master; Jeffery “Boo” Broussard.”

“Fortunately, for us Jeffery is back and kicking bigger and better than ever with his new band. I imagine all the legends that have passed us are looking down with great pride knowing that their music is alive, well, and being played the way they intended it to be. Just like they did, Jeffery has always seemed to rise from the ashes, even better than we left him.

This time is certainly no different. Watching Jeffery at Zydeco Extravaganza this year with his new band, performing to a packed house of excited dancers, took me and most fans back over 20 years! There is no doubt he is one of the most treasured gems of our culture and will be for years to come...”
